FROM THE PRESIDENT

SHA has always been Girl Focused – Future Ready, empowering young women to become tomorrow’s leaders, armed with faith, courage and grace.

Every generation of SHA girls faces different challenges, different opportunities, and different futures. Yet through the years, there’s one thing that remains steadfast: our school’s commitment to helping girls soar today while preparing them to build a better world tomorrow.

That’s why the theme of this issue means so much to me and to our school community – and as I reflect upon the past few years and the challenges we’ve overcome, I think about what it really means to be Girl Focused and to be Future Ready.

It means honoring the SHA legacy of leading with faith, truth, and love, which remains constant. Since day one, we have been devoted to our charism and to our commitment to educating and nurturing the whole student as we help her grow both intellectually and spiritually into the person God created her to be. That will never change.

To me, it means sustaining an environment where all girls are inspired to express themselves with confidence and pursue their passions with conviction. From sharing research in genetics class, to shining on the Shubert stage, to coming together during Spirit Week, to celebrating our tech competition championship, these are some of the many opportunities that unite our community and make SHA sparkle.

It means educating and empowering girls with the skills and tools they need to make a difference.

We do so by enhancing our curriculum with programs that inspire girls – such as the Bloomberg Financial Program, our expanded Social Studies curriculum that highlights women in history and literature, our genetic sequencing program, and our new partnership with the University of New Haven – as well as supporting the mental health needs of our students.

FALLING IN LOVE

At SHA, our mission is to help all students pursue their passions and life paths in faith, truth, and love – a sentiment beautifully expressed in the poem Sr. Sheila shared during her first-day remarks.

Nothing is more practical than finding God, than falling in love in a quite absolute, final way.

What you are in love with, what seizes your imagination will affect everything.

It will decide what will get you out of bed in the morning, what you do with your evenings, how you spend your weekends, what you read, whom you know, what breaks your heart, and what amazes you with joy and gratitude.

Fall in love, stay in love, and it will decide everything.

~ FR. JOSEPH P. WHELAN, SJ ~

And it means upholding our tradition of creating confident leaders and future changemakers. Our alumnae featured in this issue are living examples. From a biochemist-entrepreneur, to an engineer-artist, to a teacher-business-leader, to the Provincial Superior of the Apostles of the Sacred Heart of Jesus, these women – and all of our 7,000+ alumnae – embody the SHA legacy and spirit of being Girl Focused – Future Ready.

The Sacred Heart Academy experience continues to be unique, extraordinary, and enduring. Our school's ability to honor our legacy, adapt to the present, and prepare for the future and continue to be inspired by our alumnae community, this is what makes SHA strong. I can't wait to see what we can accomplish together in the future.

Ever higher,

A LEGACY OF LEADERS

SR. BARBARA THOMAS, ASCJ, '71,

Provincial Superior of the US Province of the Apostles of the Sacred Heart of Jesus

ON THE LEGACY OF THE APOSTLES AND LEADERSHIP

“The Sisters of SHA were among my first role models in leadership, along with my parents. Today, I hope to continue their legacy.”

I could list hundreds of skills that I gained as a SHA student in the early 1970s – how to be accepting, how to respect others, how to work together, how to recognize your own gifts while allowing those of others to shine... Yet there is one skill I didn't recognize I learned until many years later; one that was ever-present but taught through actions and examples rather than textbooks and lectures.

LEADERSHIP.

When I think back to my own SHA experience, I now recognize that the Sisters were subtly teaching us what a leader has to do, and what skills she needs, through their words and work every day.

I discovered in the ASCJs of SHA models of leadership: prayer, kindness, respect, and friendship. As a student, I wondered how they did it. How did they see and support each student so wholly?

I learned much later that it was because they dedicated their life to following the Sacred Heart of Jesus in their vocation – and I was inspired to do the same.

I couldn't wait to become a teacher. I wanted to be that ASCJ who could deeply listen to the young ladies in class, not just teach my subject. I wanted to help students navigate profound and challenging conversations, and empower them to share their ideas with openness.

I began teaching math in elementary school before I returned to SHA to teach math and theology. I continued in secondary education until I was called to be a principal at Our Lady of Good Counsel School, an elementary school in St. Louis, Missouri. It was there where everything I learned and experienced at SHA came to life. It was my turn to pass it on.

I found I had the skills to look at the big picture of the school and put programs in place to help every child learn. I experienced an amazing, strong, caring, faith community in school and parish. Other Sisters, our lay staff, our pastor, and parishioners taught me what a parish community can do to bring God into our daily lives, choices, activities, and dreams.

My education in leadership continued as I finished my M.A. in Education Administration and spent a few years as Principal of St. Rita's School here in Hamden. I'm a St. Rita's graduate, so it was amazing to be back walking those halls again, in a community alive with the love of the Sacred Heart. Leaving St. Rita's to become president at Cor Jesu Academy (CJA) in St. Louis was a challenge – but as I followed Sr. Sheila's leadership there, her many projects and innovations paved the way for me.

After 12 years at CJA, the Apostle community called me to leadership. It has been four years now that I have been privileged to be in the role of Provincial Superior for the Apostles here in the U.S.

Today, I am able to visit the many diverse Apostle ministries here in the United States: social ministries, education, healthcare, and spiritual leadership. I am not leading them, but supporting them, praying with them, listening to their goals and dreams, hopes and challenges, just as the Sisters did for me when I was a SHA girl.

I believe my journey of fusing passion with leadership is a common theme for many SHA alumnae. To today's SHA girls, I say, "take advantage of all that SHA offers, and you will know where God is leading you."

It takes listening every day to the world of SHA around you: in classes and assemblies, within the guidance department, through prayer and liturgy, to friends and parents.

It takes honesty to find who you are and where you want to go: honesty first with yourself, and then listening to how others see and know you. It is all there in the SHA halls – do not just build your resume, but build the WHO that will get you on the path that's right for YOU.

Like many SHA alumnae before and after me, what I learned in the classrooms has come full circle. Together, we are all part of a legacy and a future that's uncommon and groundbreaking for so many young women. ❤️

Sr. Justine Reina receives her veil and crucifix from Sr. Barbara Thomas, ASCJ, '71, Provincial Superior

“Professional paths are often long and winding, sometimes looping backward, sometimes skipping ground, sometimes even pausing in one place only to pick up somewhere else. Yet when a person carries the skills and confidence to wander that path with resilience, they often end up in pretty unique, groundbreaking places. That is the life Excelsior women lead!”

MARGIE BUSSMANN GILLIS '69

LEAPS OF FAITH AND LEADERSHIP

Even as a little girl, Margie knew she would be a teacher. What she didn't know was that, after spending more than 40 years as an educator, she would become an entrepreneur.

"I always saw myself as a teacher. I taught my little sister to read in our basement, where we would play school every day," said Gillis, a nationally recognized literacy expert and Certified Academic Language Therapist. "I never thought about starting a business until I left a research position at the age of 57."

"I joined many clubs at SHA just to try out different things – and I ultimately led some of them. In college, I continued on that path and led several educational groups as that has always been my passion," she said. "At SHA, I met many strong young women who were intelligent, kind, passionate, and positive, and we supported each other in and out of the classroom."

That's when Margie decided to take a leap of faith and launch Literacy How, Inc., which provides professional development opportunities and coaching to help teachers implement evidence-based reading practices in the classroom.

"There were challenges, and I didn't know if the business would survive – but it has! My hope is that we continue to provide the support that schools, families, and most importantly children require to be successful, in school and in life," she said.

While entrepreneurship was not always on her mind, trying new things and taking risks was part of a "can-do" attitude she said she developed throughout her time at Sacred Heart Academy and beyond.

Margie received her Doctorate of Education from the University of Louisville in Special Education, and she has worked at the policy level through the Connecticut State Department of Education (CSDE). She was instrumental in Connecticut's adoption of a universal screening test for K-3 students, and she serves as an advisor for many organizations, including ReadWorks.org and Understood.org. Margie is also the founder and former president of Smart Kids with Learning Disabilities and serves on many boards for education-based organizations.

"I didn't set out to lead, per se, but my passion for teaching children to read has been a vocation and as such, it has provided leadership opportunities throughout my career.”

Margie looks back at her time at SHA with fondness – especially when reflecting on one of her favorite SHA memories: her participation in the 1970 Sound of Music operetta.

“I was a freshman and played the role of Kurt (one of the Von Trapps) and my dear friend, Kris McMillan, was Greta in the show. The whole cast was amazing and the experience taught me a lot about hard work, being part of a group of dedicated young women, and having fun while working hard,” she said. “We had lots of laughs, tears, and moments when it was terrifying to be on stage in front of a live audience. I can still remember all of the feelings today!”

As an education advocate, Margie believes in the power and importance of an education that both develops academic skills and helps students form relationships with diverse groups of people.

“High school is a critical time in a person’s life. There are challenges and opportunities that prepare a young woman for the world. At SHA, you enter as a girl and graduate as a young woman – and ideally, you use those four years of varied experiences to inform future decisions.” ♥

ABBY VOTTO BELGE '93

TAKING RISKS, FAILING FORWARD & BEING FUTURE-READY

After graduating from Sacred Heart Academy, Abby went on to study and work in the scientific industry, raise her children, and volunteer for various Boston organizations – all before founding a thriving product-based business that started with a friendship and a little blue pineapple design.

The day after graduating from Bowdoin College, Abby moved to Boston which was a biotech/pharma hub. She found herself working for a UK-based, global conference and publishing company in its US office, which operated in the Life Sciences space. “I fudged my way through the interview and was hired in an entry-level position in the marketing department. With absolutely no marketing knowledge, I had to “wing it.” Just a few years at the company, Abby became the marketing director and by 29 years old, she was promoted to division director, responsible for U.S. product development and marketing.

After becoming a mom, Abby stopped working to be at home with her children and in the little time that she had after they started school, she began volunteering for a Boston non-profit and got very involved with her children’s Boston public school.

This is how she met her future business partner, Boston-based artist Vanessa Douglas.

“After three years of volunteering together, Vanessa showed me a little blue pineapple design that she had created on her iPad and asked me what I thought of it. In that same conversation, she also asked me if I wanted to go into business with her. She had interest in designing repeat patterns and prints but didn’t know how to commercialize her art. That’s where I came in – and ultimately how Lilibridge started.”

Abby and Vanessa spent the next six months thinking about potential products that might showcase the designs; estimating product costs; conducting focus groups; and talking to as many people in the industry as possible.

Nine months later, they launched their brand with a foldable beach bag they named the Lilibridge Bag. In their fourth year of business, Lilibridge offers six different products in twelve designs. They have five new items in development at the moment and they have recently launched an exciting collaboration with a pickleball racquet company.

Visit Lilibridge.com to see the beautiful designs and canvas bags available on the website.

Their products are currently sold in over 100 stores and resorts in the continental United States, Costa Rica, British West Indies, and the Bahamas.

In reflecting about her time at SHA, Abby credits the school with allowing her to concentrate on her own confidence and meaningful friendships with other girls. It sounds simple, but it is powerful. "It allowed me to fail in a safe environment without too much embarrassment (being a teenager is hard enough), and benefit from the meaningful growth that comes from real failure. As a student at SHA, I knew if I did fail at something, I'd have my sisters there to help pick me up."

The confidence gave Abby the courage to take risks. She started Lilibridge with her savings at 44 years old after being a stay-at-home mom for nine years. "'Risk' might not be a strong enough word here! But even when I think back to my first job out of college or experiences in a new city at a young age, I did feel prepared for whatever challenge came my way and I do attribute that to my SHA foundation. I certainly wasn't fearless; however, I did have a strong sense of self. I was ready and excited for my future."

Among her many SHA experiences, Abby is thankful for the emphasis on hard work.

"Whether it be academics, athletics, or the arts, SHA students are pushed to achieve extraordinary outcomes. I attribute this largely to the fact that the school is led and inspired by the Apostles of the Sacred Heart of Jesus.

My teachers were brilliant, strong women who had chosen a life of self-sacrifice. They instilled a strong work ethic, the proper discipline, and all the support a girl might need in order to achieve her goals and thrive." ♥

FROM ENGINEER TO PAINTER: THE INSPIRING PATH OF AN ARTIST

Pursue your passion, or study your strengths? That's the question many young people ask themselves as they look toward the future – but Jasmine proves that sometimes life has a way of letting you do both.

As a Sacred Heart Academy student, Tompkins knew that art was her passion. After joining SHA for her sophomore year, she founded and served as president of the Dance Club, was cast in several school musicals, and also was on the track and field teams. Yet when it came to choosing a college and ultimately a major, she felt pressure to keep art as a hobby in order to pursue a career that would create financial security.

"I did well and enjoyed the new SHA engineering course, so I decided to go for an engineering major – despite not truly knowing what it meant," said Tompkins.

In the fall of 2009, Jasmine began her collegiate studies at Rochester Institute of Technology in Undeclared Engineering Technology and ultimately found a fit with Packaging Engineering, which allowed her to combine her math skills and her love for art. After graduating, she worked as a packaging engineer for several large companies including Fisher Price, Conair, and Unilever.

Original oil painting donated to SHA

It was while working for Unilever that Tompkins decided to start a "side hustle" in order to channel her artistic drive – a paint-and-sip business, where she offered group painting lessons. Two years into the venture, the pandemic brought her business to a halt. In June 2020 Tompkins welcomed her son.

"Working full-time from home as a new parent was extremely overwhelming, but I found relief in painting in my spare time," said Tompkins. "And soon, people started noticing my work."

After selling a piece of original art to the Children's Hospital in Rochester, New York, the demand for her paintings grew steadily and Tompkins decided to leave her job and pursue her dream of being a full-time artist.

Nearly two years later, Tompkins continues to make a living with her original art. "I want to create art that allows the viewer to feel seen in their struggles, success, pain, and joys, and see their own strength through it all as well." ❤️

CASSANDRA HORN '23

REFLECTIONS ON THE SHA CHARISM LEADERSHIP RETREAT

Over the summer, a group of 15 juniors and seniors came together to participate in a three-day retreat to learn more about leadership skills and more specifically, about how to become SHA leaders and share Blessed Clelia's charism. This was a special three-day retreat beginning on campus and culminating at the Sacred Heart on the Lake Retreat Center in Higganum, where they spent their last day.

CASSANDRA '23 SHARES:

"We learned about the true meaning behind charism, we watched videos, conversed with our peers, and listened to the faculty and staff share their experiences and their deep personal connections with Clelia's charism."

Our first day included various activities, a prayer service and reflection time during which we immersed ourselves in guidance questions alone or with friends. I loved this opportunity because it allowed me to connect with my friends on a deeper level and explore our understanding of charism. Throughout the various activities, we became more open and willing to share, which influenced the following events of learning about the virtues of courage, generosity, compassion, and integrity. Throughout our years as SHA students, we are taught these virtues daily; however, being able to take a deeper look at them with the help of faculty and staff we began to understand how these virtues are lived out. We ended the first day with a prayer of Thanksgiving, and I had a deep feeling of gratitude and excitement for the following days of our retreat.

On the second day, we learned about Mother Clelia and visited the Manor's Archive Display on Mother Clelia. This tour gave us a visual of her life and all the important work she did through her virtues. We also made time to visit the senior citizens at the Clelian Center. It was an excellent opportunity to find simple ways to practice our charism by

I have never been part of anything like this retreat before and I am so grateful for this experience.

brightening someone's day as soon as we stepped through the doors to say 'hello'. Our day was continued by brainstorming ways we could be servant leaders at SHA and throughout our community. This was taught through the story "God in an Apron" by Macrina Wiederkehr. Our second day ended with overwhelming excitement and curiosity for our last retreat day, to be held at the ASCJ's retreat house in Higganum.

Our third and final day began with a tour and the history behind the beautiful retreat house. I thoroughly enjoyed learning about the years of tradition and history present throughout the house. Seeing how extraordinary the bonds among the sisters are was remarkable. As we were taking in the sights of the beautiful lake, some students took advantage of this opportunity and went out on the lake in a canoe or pedal boat. It was fun to spend time with friends and talk to the postulants and novices about their decision and path to becoming Apostles of the Sacred Heart of Jesus. We then came together and explored ways to bring Charism into our SHA community. Our discussion included acts of service and leadership where everyone participates and comes up with thoughtful and unique ideas. Sr. Sheila guided our discussion on what it means to be a leader and the many ways we can all serve as leaders. Our retreat closed with a prayer service and commissioning, followed by a bonfire.

What a powerful experience this was for all of us! My favorite parts were learning more about Charism and Blessed Clelia's virtues, while connecting at a deeper level with my friends and faculty and recognizing the many opportunities available to us to make a difference and live our values. We returned to SHA with a renewed sense of appreciation for each other and a commitment to deepen our connections to SHA and our sisters. ❤️

FAREWELL TO RETIRING FACULTY

RICH MARINO, P'07

Teaching students to think beyond the written word.

Looking back at his time at SHA, Rich's favorite moments include his conversations with hundreds of students and teaching them to think beyond the written word. Rich had a special way of connecting with the students he taught, whether by relating the chosen topic to his own experiences or bringing his wit and humor into the classroom. It is no surprise that when we speak with alumnae who were fortunate to have Mr. Marino as a teacher, he is one of the first people they ask about.

Rich started teaching at Sacred Heart Academy in January 2000 teaching CP Western Civilization; Honors Western Civilization; and 20th Century United States History. Rich's teaching career at SHA continued to expand beyond three Honors Western Civ classes and two 20th Century United States History classes. In more recent years, Rich also taught AP classes in United States Government and Politics and European History, an experience he truly enjoyed. Rich is also a SHA parent – his daughter, Laura, graduated from SHA in 2007.

Outside the classroom, Rich has found other ways to be involved with the SHA community. During his first ten years, he was part of school productions including Bye, Bye Birdie, The Sound of Music and West Side Story. To help bring awareness and support to the school's fundraising initiatives, Rich performed various comedy routines at Auctions and one year, he even auctioned himself off as a waiter to one lucky family! Additionally, Rich took on an active role in Freshman Orientation, Kairos retreats, Proms, and countless other initiatives during his 20+ year tenure.

As we congratulate Rich on his retirement, we are grateful for his years of service to SHA and for dedicating his life to being an Excelsior educator.

FRAN SAUKAS

Sharing a passion for science and all things SHA!

Fran Saukas began her career at SHA in 1993, after teaching at Sacred Heart High School in Waterbury. Teaching both chemistry and honors chemistry, Fran then led our first ever integrated science course for freshmen. While Fran's primary focus was teaching biology, and human anatomy and physiology, she also taught many science electives – genetics, immunology, human gene discovery lab and others. Fran led SHA in starting our AP biology course, developed the ECE portion with the University of Connecticut and worked closely with Sr. Mary Jane Paoletta to establish a course in forensic science – a popular science course at SHA today!

In addition to her passion for science, Fran cherishes the years dedicated to the production of the musical. In fact, Mrs. Saukas initiated the move of the annual show to the Shubert Theater which is a wonderful accomplishment that has had a long-lasting impact for so many generations of SHA performers. Other fond memories include taking her anatomy students to the anatomy lab at the Yale School of Medicine with Dr. William Stewart, leading field trips to many places including Spain, New York, Boston, Washington, D.C., and Newport. And of course, Holiday Hill!

After being at SHA for nearly three decades, Fran will surely miss her SHA routine and most of all, her students. Fran found joy in watching almost 3,000 SHA girls grow and become Excelsior women.

AROUND THE ACADEMY

FIRST DAY TRADITION

On August 29, the senior class of '23 lined up on the front stone wall with posters to greet students arriving on the first day of school. This is our SHA senior tradition to welcome students back after summer vacation.

HOUSE MEETINGS

A new tradition began this year with the creation of SHA Houses. Each House is made up of members from all four classes with the seniors serving as leaders for the group. The four Houses are Amethyst (pictured), Emerald, Citrine and Sapphire – all named after gemstones.

PEP RALLY

Fall Mini Spirit Week concluded with a pep rally to celebrate fall sports. The whole-school assembly concluded with a t-shirt toss to get the girls excited for the latter half of the fall sports season.

ROCKIN' SHADES

Following the Enthronement of the Sacred Heart, Sr. Sheila announced she had a gift for everyone that would help the whole school "see the world through our hearts." The entire student body and faculty received heart-shaped red and pink tinted glasses as a fun surprise and a reminder to lead with love.

THE IMPORTANCE OF ENGAGEMENT

The Excelsior Experience with Mrs. Jennifer Carbone Raccio '93, P'23, '26

In today's post-pandemic world it is more important than ever that we provide our students with opportunities to enrich their minds, and connect with their peers and the world around them. While teachers are typically responsible for keeping students engaged and challenged in the classroom, rounding out that experience requires additional, intentional support. Their time at SHA will influence the way that they approach and view the world in addition to creating the memories that they will cherish for a lifetime.

This year Mrs. Jennifer Raccio was introduced as the Manager of Student Experience & Engagement, a new role that was developed to support and enhance the learning that happens on campus. A proud alumna and parent of two SHA students – Maya, a senior, and Tessa, a freshman – Mrs. Raccio is charged with organizing student events, creating new opportunities to interact and learn as a community and working with teachers to establish trips and activities to enhance their curriculum.

"I have a passion for ensuring that each and every SHA student feels seen, heard, and connected at our school. I love to collaborate with students to craft programs and initiatives based on their interests and topics that are important to them. These programs will support what they are learning in the classroom in a fun and creative way, reinforcing the excellent education that they are receiving here at SHA and hopefully, creating wonderful memories for them along the way." Mrs. Raccio continues, "Some of the best memories of my life happened during my time at SHA, and being a part of creating those memories for our students is an amazing feeling."

This year, Mrs. Raccio is focused on a few critical initiatives. She organizes the Excelsior Assemblies every Friday in partnership with students. These assemblies delve deeper into important topics such as Social Justice, Diversity and Inclusion, and Health and Wellness. These gatherings also encourage fun and joy through a shared love of music and dancing. You'll often find Mrs. Raccio with a microphone and speaker encouraging the students to dance their way out of the gymnasium at the end of each assembly.

"Some of the best memories of my life happened during my time at SHA, and being a part of creating those memories for our students is an amazing feeling."

~ JENNIFER RACCIO '93, P'23, '26 ~

Mrs. Raccio also organizes the activities of our Houses, a new system that helps forge bonds between grades. Each House is represented by students in all four grades, and throughout the year the Houses will host meetings and activities, earning points and competing for a fun reward at the end of the year. In addition, Mrs. Raccio collaborates with teachers to organize field trips and hands-on activities outside of the classroom. The goal is to provide opportunities for students and faculty to enhance and explore learning in new and creative ways.

While SHA's dedication to academic excellence remains the same, our focus on girls and how they learn best inspires us to continuously explore new ways to give more to our students. We are so delighted to welcome Mrs. Raccio back into our walls as we respond to our changing world – because the world needs SHA girls, and SHA girls are ready for the future!

INTRODUCING THE SHA TECHNOLOGY STUDENT ASSOCIATION (TSA) CHAPTER

Sacred Heart Academy started its first TSA (Technology Student Association) chapter last year. Students from SHA TSA chapter participated in the TSA Northeast Regional Conference and were placed:

- 1st in Tech Bowl Written (Maeve McConnell '23),
- 2nd in Tech Bowl Oral (Chiamaka Alino '22 & Mehr Chhatre '22, Maeve McConnell '23),

This event allowed our students to participate in the TSA Nationals held in Dallas, TX from June 26-30, 2022. Participating in these competitions not only expanded their horizons but also helped them to meet and interact with their STEM peers from across the country.

SHA GIRLS STUDY THE ACE2 GENE

Found to serve as the receptor for SARS-Cov-2 virus, the pathogen that causes COVID-19.

Sacred Heart Academy's Honors Biotechnology Research class(2021-2022) chose to study the Angiotensin converting enzyme – 2 (ACE2) gene from Bos Taurus (cow).The ACE2 gene which normally acts as a negative regulator of the RAS system (responsible for controlling blood pressure and fluid volume) in humans as well as cattle, has also been found to serve as the receptor for SARS-Cov-2 virus, the pathogen that causes COVID-19.

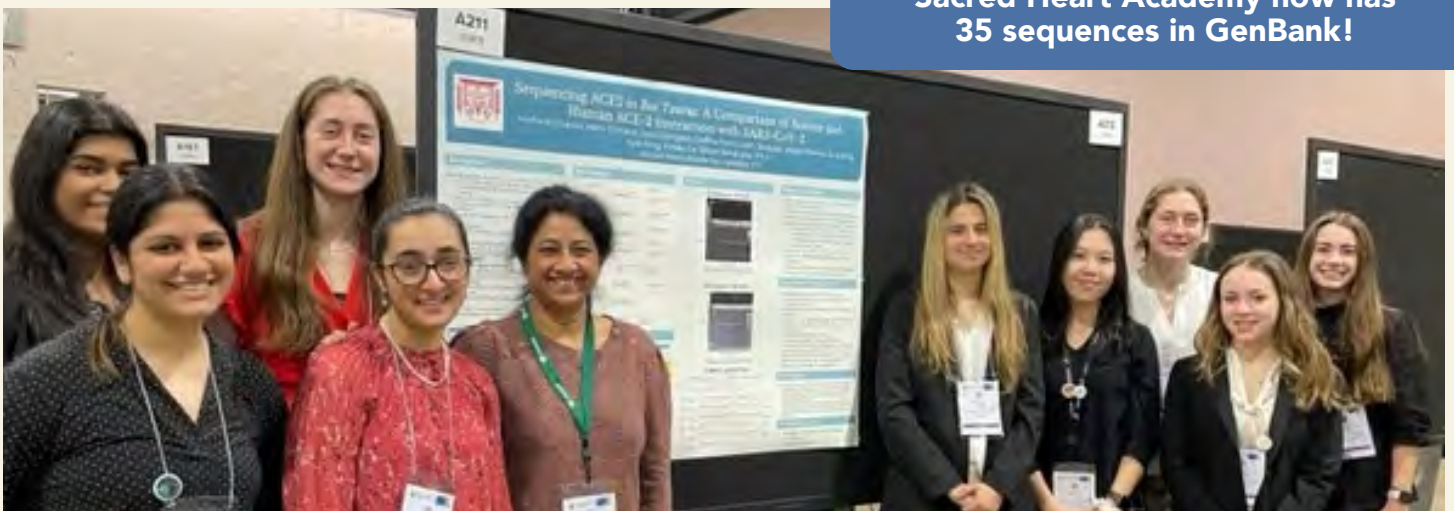

The class analyzed Exon 1 of the ACE2 gene (from Bos Taurus) which codes for residues that interact with the viral Spike protein in the hope that it could possibly help us to understand the reason underlying the difference in COVID-19 susceptibility seen between humans and cattle.

The class presented their research at the Experimental Biology, 2022 meeting in Philadelphia and their work was well received. Upon completion of the project, the class was also able to submit these sequences to GenBank (the National Library of Medicine sequence database). With this addition, Sacred Heart Academy now has 35 sequences in GenBank.

Congratulations to the group: Mehr Chhatre '22, Michelle Chacko '22, Julia DiAngelo '22, Delfina Ferro '22, Leah Jacques '23, Nikita Khanna '22, Ava King '22, Kyla King '22, and Kelsey Le '22.

Sacred Heart Academy now has 35 sequences in GenBank!

ENTHRONEMENT

Theresa Tine '23 crowns Jesus Christ during the annual Enthronement of the Sacred Heart Liturgy. She was joined by other members of the senior class who were nominated as part of the Enthronement court.

to speak with the students and faculty. Dr. Lee shared his life experiences and his work as a forensic scientist, which includes assisting in over 7,000 major case investigations. During the interactive assembly there was a lot of humor and words of wisdom as he asked questions and elicited responses from the students. After the assembly Dr. Lee attended a reception with members of the SHA community and visited the Honors Biotechnology Research class.

GRANDPARENTS' DAY

Grandparents' Day, a beloved SHA tradition returned this fall after a hiatus due to the pandemic. We welcomed grandparents to campus on Sunday, November 6, 2022 to share what Sacred Heart Academy is all about – our charism and our commitment to educating and nurturing the whole student as we help her grow not only intellectually but also spiritually.

At this special event we celebrated Bob and Nancy Hyde, GP '19, '23 who for the past eight years have really lived our motto "Excelsior," by going above and beyond in support of SHA and their granddaughters' sports teams – soccer, field hockey, ice hockey, track, and softball. For each team, every season they have been a constant cheerful presence on the sidelines, greeting parents and athletes at every game! They have also taken photos, made weekly programs, highlighted players and coaches, provided snacks and truly enjoyed being part of the Sacred Heart community, lending a hand in every way possible. Their love and generosity have touched so many players and families over the years, making the SHA experience memorable for all.

We are always grateful for all the love and support we receive from our grandparent community.

MEET THE GIRLS OF SHA

The Social Outreach Club, supervised by Miss Spillane, began a new social media campaign interviewing students about their experience at SHA. Girl Focused – Future Ready Fridays features a new girl each week in a video interview conducted and filmed entirely by students. Be sure to check them out on SHA's social media channels.

SHALLOWEEN

Happy SHalloween! Students dressed up in amazing costumes including a group of corn stalks and a dinosaur on October 31 to celebrate Halloween. STUCO ran and sponsored various Halloween themed events throughout the day.

SACRED HEART WAS "CHILLIN' LIKE VILLAINS" IN DISNEY'S DESCENDANTS

SHA performed again on the Shubert stage, this year in the production of Disney's Descendants. The performances were directed by Mrs. MaryLee Delaney, with choreographer Janet Bracale Gambardella '77, music director Jerold Goldstein, and producer SHA coach, Kim Curbow '81. This is Delaney's 16th musical production for Sacred Heart Academy and she recently assembled a student company of 150 members to create this event. Students from area towns such as Notre Dame High School, West Haven High, North Haven High, and Lyman Hall also participated.

The SHA performance was dedicated to the legacy of Cameron Boyce who originated the role of Carlos in the films. Sacred Heart Academy partnered with the Cameron Boyce Foundation to make sure young people are aware of what epilepsy is and how to help their peers if having a seizure.

Descendants featured Sophia Mastriano '23 of North Haven in the role of Mal, Lorelai Natale '24 of Hamden in the role of Evie, and Imani Okech '23 of Ansonia in the role of Maleficent.

Congratulations to our senior leads and to the entire cast and crew for another spectacular performance! And an enormous thank you to the Richard P. Garmany Foundation and all our musical sponsors for their support of this production.

Director, MaryLee Delaney

AN EXCELSIOR REUNION!

Reunion 2022

Over the last two years we have worked hard to re-imagine Reunion weekends and create an experience that will make SHA Alumnae proud of their alma mater today!

Under a tent outside our Chapel steps, close to 200 alumnae returned to campus on September 17, 2022 to celebrate their SHA reunion milestones. The strong bonds were felt throughout the day.

A tremendous shout out to the 50th Reunion Committee for organizing many aspects of their Reunion – Margaret Brillante '72 and Cindy Altieri '72 partnered closely with our Alumnae Office in making sure that the 50th Reunion for the class of 1972 was special and perfect indeed!

It was particularly heartwarming to also welcome a unique group of alumnae – Greene Street girls from the classes of 1952 and 1957. These classes hold a special place in SHA's history!

ALUMNAE GIVING BACK

“As we look to the next 75 years, we are reminded that you, our alumnae, are our future!”

- Sr. Sheila’s message to SHA alumnae thanking them for their generosity.

Our alumnae have embraced the vision and mission of the Apostles of the Sacred Heart of Jesus and partner with us in our journey to continue to educate young women through a strong education of the mind and a formation of their whole person.

SHA alumnae give back by

- ♥ Supporting our fundraising efforts
- ♥ Mentoring our young students and helping launch the career of young alumnae
- ♥ Serving on our Advisory Board or our Young Alumnae Leadership Council (YALC), as well as countless other volunteer committees.

REUNION GIVING AWARDS

We have ambitious goals for the Academy and together we can help secure the future of SHA.

♥ Our Annual Fund has more than doubled in the last two years – in 2020 we had an Annual Fund of $200,000 and this June our Annual Fund closed at $520,000. This is an incredible achievement, mostly due to Reunion giving efforts.

♥ The class of 1982 this year raised over $100,000 – the largest reunion giving effort in the school’s history.

♥ The classes of 1972, 1977, 1982 and 2012 significantly increased their participation in giving this year compared to previous years, with the class of 1972 winning the participation award!

♥ We also celebrated our Legacy Society alumnae – a special society of alumnae who have included SHA in their wills and estate planning. Growing this society means growing our endowment and securing our future. It is moving to see alumnae proudly wearing their Legacy Society ribbons at Reunion!

Rosemary DiGioia Abbate I am realizing that old age does indeed creep up on one's self! Living the life of the elderly can be a challenge. Oh, the aching bones! I am a widow of five years and still miss my husband terribly. A play he wrote for a Shakespeare festival entitled Campion's Will tells a tale of an imaginary meeting between the Jesuit priest, Edmund Campion and the young Will Shakespeare. The director of the show managed to get a copy into the Vatican Library. My three sons are well and productive. My youngest, Jeremy, is the publisher of Scientific-American magazine and fills me in on the latest in scientific research. I treasure my memories at SHA in a world that was very different.

YOUNG ALUMNAE SPOTLIGHT

Swathi Jacob '19

Swathi recently graduated from RIT (Class of 2022) and will be entering the MD/MBA program at SUNY Upstate Medical University (Class of 2027) and Whitman School of Business at Syracuse University (Class of 2023). This unique program will allow her to complete her MBA within 1 year and matriculate into medical school the following year.

How did SHA prepare you for college and beyond? One of the biggest lessons I learned at SHA was the meaning of determination and "grit." The academic rigor, as well as the life lessons I learned in high school, taught me the importance of never giving up. SHA faculty reminded me that there was always someone there who believed in me.

What has your path been like since graduation? A month after my senior year at SHA, I was accepted into the SUNY Upstate Accelerated Scholars program with RIT. This program secured my seat at SUNY Upstate Medical University, meaning I was lucky enough to not have to write the MCAT or go through the medical application process. Additionally, I completed an internship at Harvard's hospital in immunology, became a political affair intern, and pursued research in the public policy response of COVID-19 in the U.S. and was recently named a Fulbright Alternate for the UK Study Scholarship. I am grateful to have had support in college and professors who challenged me to continue to Reach Higher.

Why do you stay connected and support SHA? I stay connected to SHA because there are so many faculty members who have supported me throughout my years at SHA and continue to support me today. They continue to be my biggest cheerleaders whenever I encounter a new milestone or achievement and help me to remember how much I have grown since I have graduated.

Lois Dioro I've done a bit of traveling – UK, Italy, Portugal, France, Germany, and Greece; but the absolute best trip was to Antarctica!

1974

Beth Smith Bayes I moved back to Charlotte, NC just before the pandemic. Reconnecting with colleagues, we launched a business consortium, The eVolve Group, providing C-suite support and advisory services on an interim or fractional basis. We just celebrated our 2nd anniversary!

Susan Boyce I am contemplating retirement after practicing as a nurse attorney for 37 years, but have not yet picked an exact date. I have resumed overseas travel with my husband and friends and I am thoroughly enjoying life.

Laurie Rahael Warshavsky I started a new career in 2019 and am now owner of LJ Shoreline Realty in Niantic CT, a residential real estate agency.

Judy LaMarche Bachman I became a grandma for the first time in 2020.

1983

Kim Whalen Riccitelli I am enjoying retired life in beautiful sunny Florida with my husband.

1984

Alesia Bauer After working for 15 years as a paralegal for Travelers Insurance, I took a few years off to be a stay-at-home mom for my two sons. I started my own business in the medical waste disposal field and successfully ran that business for six years before selling it to spend more time doing volunteer work. In 2018, after moving to Old Saybrook, I began work in the Westbrook school system. In September, I began a new job in District 4 at Essex Elementary school. In my spare time, I enjoy hiking, gardening, and all types of water sports.

Mary Lee Orcutt Novia I finished another degree in religious and theological studies/liberal studies from Salve Regina University in 2020. My sons Ricky (2020) and Ryan (2021) both graduated from Providence College and are in the work force. I am married to my husband Jeff for 28 years and reside in Cheshire, CT. In 2019, I retired as Cheshire High School's freshman girls soccer coach after 20 years of coaching.

Kristina Szwaya Staton I am currently living in Northern Virginia. Of my five children, one is living and working in Louisiana, one was married this summer, the middle one is entering sophomore year at Savannah College of Art and Design, my fourth is a senior in high school, and the fifth is starting 7th grade. I'm working full time as a risk and quality management specialist for CGI Federal, Inc. and my husband of almost 32 years (in October) works in business capture and development for GDIT. I still homeschool my 7th grader in CCD and am the Scoutmaster for our girls' BSA troop.

Colleen Tracey Fenn I was married 30 years in 2020! I have one daughter, who is a Lt. in U.S. Army, stationed in Fairbanks AK; one son who will be a senior at the College of the Holy Cross, majoring in math and statistics; my other daughter is the Assistant Town Clerk for the Town of Simsbury and her husband works for the Wadsworth Atheneum in Hartford.

1988

Simone Minichino Garofalo I have enjoyed cheering on my freshman high-honors daughter during her freshman year in which she played three sports and look forward to a repeat for her sophomore year.

1989

Marlene Castro DiCristina I am still working at Kaiser Permanente as a Family Medicine physician, doing home visits in Southwest Washington. I also do virtual work from home. My husband has retired, and my two daughters started 12th and 8th grade this fall.

YOUNG ALUMNAE SPOTLIGHT

Emily Baumgaertner '10

Emily '10 is a journalist at the Los Angeles Times, focusing on medical investigations and feature writing. After SHA, Emily earned both her undergraduate and graduate degrees in public health from the George Washington University. After completing internships, she discovered that her passion was in documenting global health issues. Emily has traveled the world, covering stories of people facing contagions, such as the Ebola outbreak in West Africa and yellow fever in Congo. In 2019, Emily headed to California to cover infectious diseases, but little did she know that the biggest virus storyline of the century would be coming to home soil soon after...

How did SHA prepare you for college and beyond? In retrospect, SHA gave me something rare: an awareness of my own curiosity. I showed up as a freshman under the impression that success would be found through straight As and late nights of memorization, but I graduated with a much more mature perspective on learning: We each have deep, insatiable curiosity about the world. Formal education is about becoming equipped to chase aggressively after the unknowns that really gnaw at us.

I am fortunate that my career itself is in learning. I'm paid to wake up each day and seek answers to questions about how the world works. I'm convinced I have the most fun job on the planet. Looking back, it wasn't the theorems or the vocabulary books that stuck with me; it was the hunger to dig into captivating issues for the intrinsic joy of it – to explore, discover, question, and inspire change.

Why do you stay connected and support SHA? The "strong bonds" mantra you hear is true. I love my SHA girls. They knew me back when I was getting to know myself, long before I became the sturdier, more confident version that the rest of the world sees.

Maria DeChello Pompano I just completed my 22nd year as a science teacher for East Haven Public Schools and my 10th year as an administrator (Science Instructional Leader 6-12) in the district. In these challenging times, I am proud to be in education and making a difference in the lives of children.

1994

Carissa Terranova Mastriano I am excited for my daughter, Sophia Mastriano '23 as she takes on the role of Mal in SHA's musical, Disney's Descendants. I had roles in every SHA musical and consider those times some of my favorite high school moments. I am grateful that Sophia has had the chance to experience the same excitement over the past years. I live in North Haven and I am married to my husband Paul. I have two children; Sophia, age 17 and Paulie, age 14 and an 8-year-old Wheaten Terrier named Henry. I am a Realtor with GRL and Realtors in New Haven and currently sing with the band, The Day Jobs.

Theresa Cirillo I am currently an LMFTA, working towards my license. I have been the Clinical Coordinator for Bridge Family Center, Harwinton STAR for the past 6 years working with homeless, at-risk adolescent females ages 11-18. I have two children; a daughter Callie who is 13, and a son Cayden who is almost 10.

Katherine Collins Orozco Kate's husband, Ryan, retired after 21 years of service in the United States Marine Corps. They decided to move back to Connecticut in order to be closer to Kate's family. Just prior to moving, they welcomed their fourth child, Greta. Greta joins her older siblings Lilah, Camille, & Rex.

Stephanie Damiani On May 2, 2022, I was sworn in as a Superior Court Judge serving the State of Connecticut.

1996

Diane Phelan de Boer Currently in Into the Woods on Broadway!

1998

Cheryl Civitello Carreiro I am mom to two kids - 6 and 8, my husband is a State Trooper, and we just celebrated our 10-year anniversary! I currently am the Assistant Director of the CT Forensic Laboratory and DNA Technical Leader. I have competed in fitness competitions and have been a health coach for the past few years.

2004

Caroline Black Schonborn We recently welcomed our second child, Briggs Schonborn. Big brother, Gunnar is excited about the new addition to our family. We are moving back to Connecticut from Boston.

I work in a group practice committed to justice work and making mental healthcare accessible to those who have struggled to find therapists who are informed and culturally competent. I specialize in working with LGBTQIA+ young adults, as well as individuals who find meaning in spirituality.

YOUNG ALUMNAE SPOTLIGHT

Dana Yakabowskas Keil '12

Currently a Ph.D. candidate at the University of Albany, Dana has a fascinating career working as an archaeologist. She is a Geographic Information Systems (GIS) specialist and creates maps to study harmful algae while working for the New York State Department of Health. She graduated from UConn in 2016 with a triple major in archaeology, geoscience, and geography with a focus in GIS. Most recently she spoke to our students about her love of science and what it's like to be an archaeologist.

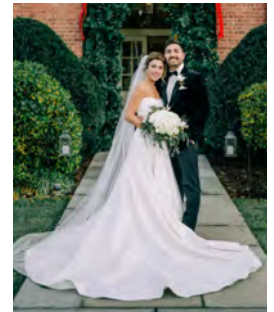

How did SHA prepare you for college and beyond? In college, depending on your major, you are writing papers constantly. The same is true for graduate school, and in my case, also my job. I really learned how to write papers from the amazing teachers at SHA. Going to college and writing 5-page papers was a breeze because I had already been writing longer more intense papers at SHA. I also use math almost every day in some form or another and SHA set up that foundation for me.

Why do you give back and stay connected to SHA? I loved my time at SHA and the school will always hold a very special place in my heart. I also made my best friends at SHA. I now give back because I was always the girl with "different" passions or interests and while still at SHA I promised myself I would stay connected and help guide students who wanted to pursue uncharted paths. I want to inspire girls to try new hobbies and find new interests regardless of what they are planning to study in college. Finding your passions is a worthy pursuit.

Bethany Naccarato I married Michael DiPietro on July 23, 2022.

Alex Rallo '12 got married on December 17, 2022. "Everything came together perfectly and it was truly the happiest day."

2018

Mary Naccarato This picture is of our SHA friends celebrating the wedding of my sister, Bethany Naccarato. Pictured are Mary Naccarato '18, Bethany Naccarato '12 and Trinity Nofsinger '12.

2020

Erin Albright I am running the TCS New York Marathon in November on the Get In Touch Foundation charity team! I am fundraising, with a goal of $15,000 to promote women's breast health awareness worldwide. This fundraiser is near and dear to my heart, as I am honoring my mom through this race. I would love for my SHA sisters to support me on this journey.

“When you combine the academic excellence of SHA along with the leadership and strong communication skills and a culture of helping and giving back, you have a recipe for an amazing young woman prepared to take on her future!”

IN ALL THINGS GIVE THANKS!

The 2021-22 academic year was a year of celebration for Sacred Heart Academy.

We proudly celebrated our 75th anniversary and the tremendous legacy and impact of an Excelsior education. We traveled and met with alumnae across the country sharing stories of SHA today and hearing about the achievements of our alumnae leaving their mark in their professions and communities.

This past year, we also celebrated an exciting philanthropic milestone for SHA as we set a new record raising over $500,000 in support of our Annual Fund – our most important annual fundraising drive. The Annual Fund, essential to our financial strength and stability, more than doubled in the last two years as a result of the support we received from many alumnae, parents, grandparents, and friends. Our Advisory Board and our Faculty and Staff led the way supporting our “every gift matters” campaign by achieving 100% participation in giving.

In addition to the Annual Fund, the SHA community also supported our Endowment, our Golf Tournament, online Auction and our annual $10,000 Raffle, helping us raise a total of $730,000 this past academic year. All your contributions have an enormous impact on our educational programs as well as our financial assistance and scholarship program at SHA which continues to grow every year.

Thank you for believing in SHA and for being a part of the Excelsior journey with us. With your support we continue to live our motto ‘ever higher’ and look to the future and our next 75 years with much hope and optimism.

Blessings and gratitude,

Sr. Sheila O'Neill, ascj

"I give because of the great experience I had at SHA. My time at SHA prepared me for college and for life. The strong bonds formed at SHA are real!"

SHA Heritage Society

A SPECIAL RECOGNITION

The Heritage Society at Sacred Heart Academy celebrates those SHA alumnae, parents, and friends who have included SHA in their estate planning. A planned gift secures the future of the Academy.

We can't thank you enough for supporting the School with such a thoughtful, future gift.

Planned gifts such as bequests, gift annuities or charitable trusts allow you to not only plan for yourself and your family, but to also plan your legacy at SHA.

“Your legacy helps SHA girls gain an educated voice to speak up and use that voice to serve others in the community and beyond and to develop a relationship with God.”
